

TCA Western Division Presents:
Limited Edition Union Pacific Flat Car With Die-cast Broguiere's Dairy 1950's DIVCO Milk Vans

The Broguiere's Farm Fresh Dairy story is a well known one amongst residents all over the state of California. Broguiere's has been a pivotal fixture of the community, popularly known for its old-timey glass bottles filled with creamy milk, hand-mixed chocolate milk and seasonal eggnog. The family-run business has existed for over 100 years. Its containers are adorned with the drawing of a horned cow and the playful words, "Milk So Fresh... The Cow Doesn't Know It's Missing". They've become so popular over the years that fans collect the bottles. eBay has a collection of special-edition vintage Broguiere's bottles that pay tribute to everything from the Los Angeles Kings to Halloween. Broguiere's is one of the last existing dairies that still uses glass bottles! These 1950's DIVCO milk vans are accurate 1:43 scale models of the exact vans that were utilized by Broguiere's Dairy to deliver their fresh milk and dairy products.
